

Don't let your house go to the dogs.

An estimated 57 million U.S. households have one or more dogs. And nearly every pet owner faces the problem of their dog tracking in dirt and mud, especially after a hard rain. Worse still, their best friend can bring in several types of bacteria and fungi into the home along with the muck.

No dirt. No germs.

The "bad germs" can make you and your family sick simply by coming into contact with the dog, or the objects your dog has touched – carpets, furniture, beds, you name it. As these invisible germs build up, they can also cause bad odors throughout your home.

Paws come clean. Homes stay clean.

We invented the Paw Boss to help pet owners thoroughly clean dirty paws quickly and conveniently, while ensuring germ removal. Only the Paw Boss gives you the peace of mind that you're keeping the dirt and germs in their place--and out of yours.

Patented device proven effective.

Paw Boss is a patented device designed to provide a healthier, more convenient solution for cleaning dirt and germs from a dog's paw. We've engineered simplicity and durability into the design to keep the cost down.

What's unique about Paw Boss is that it can be filled with clean soapy water and stored by the door for multiple uses without refilling. Plus, our built-in water transfer system delivers fresh, clean water to each and every paw for superior cleaning. No spills. Less refills. And way more hygienic.

In fact, lab tests conducted by a third-party prove its effectiveness. Used in combination with our anti-microbial soap, Paw Boss easily removes dirt, 99.5% of the bacteria, and 99.9% of the fungi from a pet's paw. The other patented devices out there today cannot match our effectiveness. They don't provide the ability to use fresh, clean water for every paw without multiple trips back and forth to the sink.

Leave the Paw Boss by the door or take it in your car and be confident that when you're cleaning those dirty paws the muck stops here!

Leaves other methods in the dirt.

Today, pet owners are using a variety of methods to clean their pet's paws. While these attempts may be quick and well-intentioned, they're not very effective ways to maintain a clean, safe, germ-free home.

Bowl of water by the door

Aside from being inconvenient and messy, pet owners are reusing dirty water to clean each successive paw. Would you wash your hands in filthy water? No way.

Wet wipes

Over time, wet wipes are a relatively costly method for pet owners and the environment as they stuff landfills. And wet wipes don't adequately clean between muddy paw pads.

Paw mitts or towels

Even those fancy paw mitts have proven to be very inefficient at wiping a paw clean. Imagine cleaning your dirty hands by just wiping them in a towel without using soapy water. Yuck!

Earlier paw washing devices

Pet owners must empty and refill the container between each use. And similar to water bowls, there's no system that allows for each and every paw to be washed with clean, fresh water without multiple trips to the sink.
